DAYTONA BEACH, Fla.

Pre-race day update

Team Hardpoint rolled out their new Audi R8 LMS GT3 at the IMSA WeatherTech 240 At Daytona on the first night practice at Daytona International Speedway. The team announced their IMSA WeatherTech Sprint Championship debut on Radio Le Mans June 17, during the Midweek Motorsport Show. Since then, the team has moved at full speed to prepare the race car and team logistics in just under three weeks. Team principle Rob Ferriol and co-driver Spencer Pumpelly are no strangers to the Audi brand, the duo is currently campaigning an Audi R8 LMS GT4 in the Michelin Pilot Challenge.

The one hour session at Daytona International Speedway was considered a success. Inclement weather arrived early in the afternoon and rolled out before the practice session, leaving perfect track conditions. The team was able to arrive and run without issue due to their impressive preparation. Practice #2 begins tomorrow at 10:15 am, qualifying at 1:55 pm, and the IMSA WeatherTech 240 At Daytona green flag is at 6:10 PM.
